Facilitation Course - online

7, 14, 17 & 19 June 2024 + 2 tbc

WIEBKE NEDEL

How do you facilitate collective intelligence in the work environment?

Time to Think
Consultant, Facilitator, Trainer & Coach

www.wiebkenedel.com

The Quality of decisions and actions we take as a group depends on the quality of the thinking the group does first - together.

Four Building Block Applications

- Thinking Pairs™
- Dialogue
- Rounds
- Open Discussion

Three Full Applications

- Transforming Meetings®
- The Time To Think Council™
- Presentations in a Thinking Environment™

You will see the Ten Components transform these interactions, bringing new effectiveness and intelligence to them all. You will explore:

One custom-made Application

- Facilitation of Groups

THE FACILITATOR COURSE

The Time To Think - Facilitator Course (over 5+1 online sessions) is the next step after the Foundation Course (which is a pre-requisite). The Facilitator Course teaches how to professionally present the Eight Applications of the Thinking Environment that you explored on the Foundation course.

The Facilitator Course online sessions are followed by the Facilitator Practicum Programme: an extensive supervised practicum during which you present to two different groups 7 applications of the Thinking Environment.

How do you free people to be responsible, creative and independent in their thinking?

The Facilitator Practicum

- Practice of presenting all the applications of the Thinking Environment
- Submission of an essay on the Ten Components
- Agree to membership in your local Thinking Environment Collegiate

Facilitators will be accredited when they successfully:

- Complete the course
- Complete their Practicum (ideally within 6 months of completing the course)
- And join the Time To Think Collegiate.

I have 30 years of experience, facilitating -in person on the ground- with groups and individuals all over India, China, UAE, Africa, North America and Europe. Time to Think has been a big gift on my journey as Leadership coach and facilitator as it compliments my deepest believe in our intelligence and our inert human urge to grow and learn. What drives me is to help people see who and what they are capable of being - Time to Think is one of my main tools to do so!

Come and join me in this learning adventure!

THE FACILITATOR

I am a Time to Think Consultant - training in a Thinking environment is a deep love of mine. The online environment allows for depth and concentrated engagement. It has been eye and heart opening to bring this work to hundreds of people in the last few years - online - fully engaged and energised.
